

My name is Georgios-Michalis Papadopoulos currently doing my Bachelor degree for Business Administration (with a specialization in Marketing and Operations Management) in Greece, at the University of Macedonia. I am at the moment in my third year but the previous semester I was an exchange student at the University of Barcelona, studying with other exchange students and many people from the EUS Academic Excellence group of University of Barcelona, attending International Business courses. During my first three semesters, I was working as a freelance Video Game Journalist for three different news sites, rouamat.com, Ζω στη Θεσσαλονίκη and GameWorld.gr, while I participated as a volunteer to an event which targeted young people who wanted to get into the enterprise world.

All of these past experiences shaped who I am today, as person who has a strong drive for success but wants to enjoy life too. My passion is to travel, as I believe it's the most enlightening experience anyone can have in his life, but I enjoy spending time with friends and playing multiplayer video games, to help me keep my team spirit in high levels, too. However, I am always up at discovering new challenges and learning opportunities!
